SHORT NEWS NOTES.

AT HOME AND ABROAD

Happenings That Are Making History—Information Gathered From All Quarters of the Globe and Given in a Few Lines.

Italian-Turkish War

Sixty thousand Turks and Arabs are pressing back the Italian lines around the city of Tripoli and the inhabitants of the town fear an attack at any moment and a massacre if the movement is successful. Maltese and other British subjects in Tripoli are asking for warships to protect them.

According to a news agency dispatch received in London from Tripoli which escaped Italian censorship, the situation at Tripoli is serious. European residents fear a massacre, as a holy war has been proclaimed by the natives.

Domestic

An exhibition of mine explosions and rescue work was given in Pittsburgh in the presence of President Taft, many other officials and thousands of miners. Then all joined in the celebration of the centenary of steam navigation on the Ohio. A copy of Nicholas Roosevelt's steamship New Orleans started on a trip to the Gulf of Mexico.

The United States Supreme court, in an opinion by Justice Van Devanter, gave broad powers to the Interstate commerce commission in a sweeping interpretation of the federal safety appliance law. It virtually eliminates state railroad commissions from control of roads within the state.

The proposed plan for reorganization of the tobacco trust, submitted by the American Tobacco company and co-defendants to the government anti-trust suit, was both praised and condemned before the United States circuit court for the southern district of New York. After Attorney General Wickham filed the government's answer to the plan and counsel for the defendant pleaded with the court to accept the dissolution proposal.

Comments in Rome on the approaching consistory, when seventeen cardinals, including three from the United States, will be created, continue to emphasize the great significance of Pope Pius' decision to grant America four representatives in the sacred college. By some it is asserted that the way is being paved for the advent of an American pope.

President Taft officially has designated Thursday, November 30, as Thanksgiving day, and in doing so acknowledged over his name and seal that Chicago was a temporary capital of the United States.

Prof. Robert J. Sprague of the Massachusetts Agricultural college at Amherst, Mass., has figured out from the last state census that the Yankee race is threatened with extinction. He urges "frank and open love" and says "race suicide is caused 'not because we love children less, but because we love oriental rugs and automobiles more.'"

Roger C. Sullivan, Democratic National Committeeman from Illinois, took the witness chair before the Lorimer committee at Chicago, and denied that any "contract" existed between Lorimer Republicans and the state Democratic organization, although he "thought" Senator Lorimer's friends aided the Democratic candidate for governor in 1908.

Following close upon the institution of the federal government's prosecution of the Steel trust, President Taft, speaking to a Chicago audience, announced his determination to enforce the anti-trust law to the letter against every monopoly or other unlawful combination.

By large majorities two Ohio counties shifted from the "dry" column as a result of elections held in Scioto and Lawrence counties, including the cities of Portsmouth and Ironton.

At Williston, N. D., the United States government owns and operates a coal mine. It pays its miners good wages, operates a model mine, uses all modern safety appliances and produces fuel at a cost of $1.50 a ton.

Goat's milk is the latest remedy for the drink habit. Dr. Adelaide M. Abbott, superintendent of the department of health and heredity of the Woman's Christian Temperance union, Boston, declares that it is a specific.

Fusion of progressive Republicans and Democrats was delightfully proposed by Gov. Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey in an address at a luncheon at Madison Wis., attended by 1,000 state Democrats and many La Follette Republicans.

Something of a sensation in connection with the Rosebud land lottery developed when it was disclosed that 41 sections of the Rosebud tract in South Dakota have been claimed by the state for Indian school lands. The sections, including the best in this tract, will be selected by the state before the settlers have a chance to file.

The federal government filed suit at Trenton, N. J., against United States Steel corporation to compel its dissolution to an illegal combine. It is the most sweeping anti-trust action ever brought by the department of justice. The petition was prepared by Jacob M. Dickinson, former secretary of war, who had been retained by the government as its special counsel in this case.

Robbers blew open the vault in the State bank at Foster, Mo., and escaped with $25,000 in cash and over $30,000 worth of notes and checks.

The council of woman voters at Seattle, Wash., lost its fight to stop smoking in jury rooms when women are members of the jury, but won other reforms sought in the memorial filed with the county commissioners.

The pope will create seventeen cardinals at the consistory to be held November 27. Most Rev. John M. Farley, archbishop of New York, and Most Rev. William H. O'Connell, archbishop of Boston, are among those who will receive the red hat. Mgr. Diomedeo Falconio, apostolic delegate at Washington, also will be elevated.

At the concluding session of the annual conference of the sanitary officers of the state of New York Dr. Simon Flexner, director of Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, declared that as a result of many experiments with serum he was able to say that epidemics of spinal meningitis can now be controlled.

Dr. Frank A. Brown, millionaire planter and politician of Louisiana, who owns a chain of summer hotels in the heart of the Wisconsin lakes region, is the principal defendant in a $20,000 alienation suit, in which his erstwhile daughter-in-law, Mrs. Thelma C. Brown, is the plaintiff.

An earthquake shock of 44 minutes' duration was recorded by the seismograph at Loyola college, New Orleans, and Santa Clara college, San Diego, Cal. Father Frank-Hauser of Loyola was of the opinion the center of disturbance was in or near the southern portion of Alaska.

Speaker Champ Clark has declined to allow the new private dining room in the house end of the capitol, Washington, to be designated the "speaker's dining room."

Farmers are fighting flames in the forest near Catskill, N. Y., where, legend says, Rip Van Winkle took his 20-year nap. Many acres have been burned.

Gifts aggregating $635,000 were made to six colleges and universities at a New York meeting of the Rockefeller general education board.

Mrs. Laura Stannard was found "not guilty" at Ontonagon, Mich., of murdering her husband, Charles S. Stannard of Greenland, last March by strychnine poisoning. The jury was out one hour and ten minutes.

Joseph Pulitzer, proprietor of the New York World and the St. Louis Post-Dispatch and for many years one of the most powerful journalistic forces in America, died suddenly aboard his yacht, "The Liberty," off Charleston, S. C. Heart failure, following an illness of 48 hours, is given as the cause of death.

The Atlantic squadron, 102 vessels, with a combined displacement of 577,599 tons, assembled in New York harbor to be reviewed by Secretary of the Navy Meyer. At the same time the Pacific fleet of 24 vessels assembled at Los Angeles.

Foreign

The demand of the national assembly for a complete constitutional government has been acceded to by the Chinese throne. An imperial edict was issued apologizing for the past neglect of the throne and granting an immediate constitution with a cabinet from which nobles shall be excluded. A second edict grants pardon to all political offenders.

Paris dressmakers have suffered a severe loss in trade because of curtailed American orders following the strict enforcement of customs regulations at United States ports.

There is no truth in the reports circulated in European capitals of an attempt on the lives of the emperor and empress of Russia. The reports are declared officially to have been circulated for the purpose of inducing the stock market.

Sporting

The Philadelphia Athletics are champions of the world for the second successive year. In an exhibition of batting seldom seen in a premier baseball series, the American league team defeated New York in the sixth game of the set by the overwhelming score of 13 to 2, thus giving them the four necessary games out of the six played to carry off baseball's greatest honor.

THE CHESTNUT BLIGHT.

The chestnut tree blight is to be thoroughly investigated. Pennsylvania has created a commission for this purpose, and the legislature has appropriated $250,000 to fight this new disease, which threatens to destroy every chestnut tree in the state. Thus far no remedy has been discovered, but something of its nature has been learned. It is a bark blight, a fungus, and its spores are very light, and are carried by the wind, by birds and by insects to great distances, says the New York News. It first attacks the small branches and young trees, but later settles upon the stoutest and hardest of the chestnut groves. And no tree that has been attacked since the disease was first noticed in Forest Park, Brooklyn, several years ago, has been saved. No less than 17,000 chestnut trees have been killed in that one park. So rapid has been the spread of the disease that the government is making investigations, in the hope of finding a remedy to prevent its further extension. Great quantities of these beautiful and useful trees have already been destroyed in New Jersey, but no energetic measures have been taken to check its progress, though local and state foresters are giving it their most careful and intelligent study. It will involve many millions of dollars' worth of lumber, to say nothing of ornamental and shade trees if no cure is found for the chestnut tree fungus.

Sales of stock on the New York exchange during the past half-year amounted to 54,000,000 shares, which is only about one-half the volume of transactions during the same time in the three previous years, and much less than half that of the same months in 1907, 1906 and 1905. To find as dull a period for speculation we must go back to 1904. Sales of bonds, however, were exceptionally large. There was thus plenty of capital seeking solid or debt investment; and very little capital disposed to speculate or assume the risks of ownership investment. It has been a time of exceptional, even extraordinary, timidity on the part of capital.

Edward Swanston of Boardman township was in the village Thursday morning. He had a public sale Wednesday and he informed the Dispatch that nearly everything sold brought good prices.

Speaking of the grant of a pension of $100 to Joseph Conrad, the English author, the New York Evening Post says "that he should stand in need of a government subsidy would be almost incredible if it were not for the striking difference between the pursuit of literature in this country and that in England. With us a man makes his mark and grows wealthy, or fails and steps writing books." To most of us it seemed the other way; most of those Americans who do not make their mark keep on writing books.

A Brooklyn woman refused to obey an order of the Supreme court to allow her divorced husband to visit their baby, and the justice whose authority was thus defied, asked: "What are we going to do about it?" Being a jurist of wide experience and knowledge of human nature, he admitted that all the courts going were no match for a woman once her mind was made up.

The amount collected at the port of New York from fines, penalties and forfeitures amounted to over $2,000,000. Honesty, from this showing, is not only the best policy, but also the cheapest in the end.

An English physician tells us that a 24-hour stretch of sleep is as good as a week's vacation. One generally feels like sleeping that long after returning from a week's vacation.

The ruling passion stronger than death might be applied to the Boston woman who left directions in her will that the date of her birth must not be put on her tombstone.

Gems In Verse

THE SHIP OF DREAMS.
In the silver trail there's a sail tonight,
And a ship stands in from the far sea line—
A shape that never is seen by day,
In mist enshrouded and veiled in spray,
Bearing no store of mart or mine.

Out of the haven of heart's desire
Many a year's she overdue;
Dreams forgotten and visions old,
Yearnings battered away for gold—
These are the wares she brings to you.

Spill of the lands of long ago,
Treasure of years when the heart was young,
Tears she bringeth and childish woe,
Wistful longing and kiss of snow,
The hope untold and the song unsung.

You never shall hear her anchor chains
Nor ever the sound of her flapping sail,
Yet eyes that are weary and old and dim
Have seen her far on the ocean rim,
Sailing across the silver trail.

—Charles W. Kennedy in Almanac's.

THE HILLS.

Joy dwells amid the morning hills,
Why must we seek the dreary plain?
To plod beneath the burning sun
Toward the far reaches of the main?

Fair hills of youth, dear, happy hills,
Be with you once again
And not thus journeying on and on
Toward the inevitable main!

—Clinton Scollard.

TONGUE COUPLETS.

"THE boneless tongue, so small and weak,
Can crush and kill," declared the Greek.

"THE tongue destroys a greater horde,"
The Turk asserts, "than does the sword."

"THE Persian proverb wisely saith,
"A lengthy tongue—an early death."

"OR sometimes takes this form instead:
"Don't let your tongue out off your head."

"THE tongue can speak a word whose speed,
Says the Chinese, "outstrips the steed."

WHILE Arab sages this impart:
"The tongue's great storehouse is the heart."

FROM Hebrew wit the maxim sprung,
"Though feet should slip, ne'er let the tongue."

"THE sacred writer crowns the whole—
"Who keeps the tongue doth keep his soul."

—Spurgeon.

BETWEEN JOY AND SORROW.

BETWEEN joy and sorrow,
As 'twixt day and morrow,
I lay for a space,
And I heard, so lying,
My old grief sighing
From her faroff place.

I said: "Thou art over,
And where dreams hover
Thou hoverest now.
In the land of thy dwelling
What waters are weeping
And blossoms what bough?

"Old tears are its rivers,
The wind that there quivers
Is breath of old sighs;
Wreck strewn are the shores there,
And sunset endures there
Through infinite skies.

"But all there is quiet,
There no waves make riot
On the wait-gumbered coasts,
Where thou movest banished,
But not quite vanished—
A ghost among ghosts."

—Philip Bourke Marston.

JOYS OF HOME.

Sweet are the joys of home
And pure as sweet, for they
Like dew of morn and evening
Come
To make and close the day.

The world hath its delights
And its delusions too,
But home to calmer bliss invites
More tranquil and more true.

CAUSE AND REMEDY.

Uncertainty of the immediate future is looked upon by many men of affairs, as a blockade to enterprise and business prosperity, and this blockade is now quite apparent throughout the channels of trade.

The Presidential Election; the efforts of Congress with no fixed purpose; Organized Labor as a new factor in politics; together with other matters of greater or less import, represent at this time a chaotic conflict of separate interests, to harmonize which is now the problem before the country.

All want Prosperity, Peace and Plenty. Read with care the Cincinnati Enquirer, a journal that prints all the news each day from every commercial center throughout the world. A barometer of causes and effects that points out, as a Beacon Light, the danger and the safeguard therefrom.

As well known, the Daily Enquirer is the largest in size and highest priced paper in the United States, yet cheapest, measured by quality and quantity.

The Weekly Enquirer, with the cream and digest of all the news, able and conservative editorials, market reports, methods and results from Government and State Experiment Stations, veterinary matters, People's Forum, choice literature, short and continued stories, non-sectarian sermons, general information, etc., with the exclusion of all matters of scandal and immorality, is today the Cleanest Weekly Family Journal obtainable. Each issue is alone worth the price of a year's subscription.

Solicitors for subscriptions make a handsome profit and increase the good influence of The Enquirer in the uplift of morality and industry, and for the betterment and welfare of the community. For terms write to The Enquirer, Cincinnati, Ohio.
